

Indy Folk Series: The Season In short:

Unitarian Universalist Church of Indianapolis: 615 West 43rd Street 🎵 www.uui.org
12 and under free 🎵 Snacks, coffee and wine available 🎵 www.indyfolkseries.org
All concerts are Saturday evenings, 7:00 – 9:00 p.m.
$10 (12 and under free)

September 19: Barbara Bailey Hutchison

www.bbhsings.com

October 10: Bob Franke

www.bobfranke.com

November 28: Open Mic Night/Singalong to benefit Somethin' to Crow About

Enjoy a houseful of local artists pitching in to benefit a great cause.

www.beyondthebarnyard.com

February 20, 2010: Tim Grimm

www.timgrimm.com

March 20: Maple Trio

The versatile instrumental force behind Blueprint Music

April 17: Kara Barnard

www.karabarnard.com

May 15: Hogeye Navvy

www.hogeyenavvy.com/

BACKGROUND:

Now in its ninth season, the Indy Folk Series is a non-profit venture presenting selected acoustic music in a comfortable, coffeehouse setting. The series showcases nationally known and local performers playing folk, bluegrass, Celtic and other styles.

Candles on the tables hearken back to coffeehouses of the 1970s. First-rate acoustics and a friendly atmosphere put artists and audience at ease. Refreshments include coffee, wine and a tempting array of snacks.